Queens University of Charlotte is pleased to offer the 41st Annual Estate Planners Day. This single day conference offers a comprehensive educational program for estate planning professionals. Nationally recognized experts will provide recent federal and state law updates and will cover timely and relevant topics in the fields of estate, tax, accounting, insurance, financial and charitable planning. Estate Planners Day is the longest continually running public event in Queens' history.

Registration will open in early spring 2019. Please contact Cristin Corder Lee at leec3@queens.edu with any questions.
